CONNECTION PRESERVATION TRANSPORTATION

PROTECTING THE FUTURE
OF THE RIO GRANDE CORRIDOR AND TRAIL

DID YOU KNOW...

1

The Rio Grande Corridor and Trail are protected through a process called railbanking.

Railbanking is a voluntary agreement that preserves unused rail corridors for future transit use by converting them into trails in the interim. Without railbanking, portions of the land may revert to many owners, making the corridor fragmented and complex to manage.

2

RFTA must be vigilant to protect the corridor's railbanking status.

To do this, RFTA must maintain the corridor up to freight corridor status by ensuring proper grading and maintaining the current grade width for the trail without allowing too many encroachments.

3

RFTA maintains the majority of the Rio Grande Corridor.

RFTA does this through providing qimodal corridor which is used for biking, walking, and other recreational activities. RFTA also protects and preserves the surrounding land for wildlife and provides the community with access to rivers and open space.

4

The corridor is part of larger transportation strategies, including future planning for the valley.

The corridor has potential in the future to be used for other transportation opportunities. Plans are underway for a RFTA Master Plan to determine which transportation uses would provide the most benefits to community members.

5

RFTA is committed to ensuring the Rio Grande Trail will always be preserved for recreational uses.

Help keep the trail clean and wildlife protected!

Do your part in protecting the Rio Grande Corridor. Leave no trace, stay on designated trails, and don't disturb local wildlife. We all have a role in ensuring the Rio Grande Corridor can be enjoyed for generations to come.

WINTER WEATHER RIDING

Colorado weather can be unpredictable. Here are some ways to be prepared for traveling during adverse weather and staying up to date on any delays, detours, and cancellations.

Know Before You Go

- Subscribe to RFTA BusTracker by email to get the latest service alerts at myRFTA.com.
- Track your bus in real time and see when it will arrive at your stop at myRFTA.com.
- Check for up-to-date stop times via text at myRFTA.com.

Plan for Extra Time

It is recommended to arrive at your bus stop at least 5 minutes early. And if possible, take an earlier scheduled bus so that if there are delays you will have time to make it to your destination.

Stay Connected

Ensure all mobile devices are fully charged in order to stay connected and receive updates on the go.

Dress for the Weather

Delays, detours and cancellations are possible during inclement weather so make sure you are prepared by being dressed appropriately for the weather conditions. Wear proper footwear and be mindful of slippery surfaces such as bus platforms, stairs and sidewalks.

Buses Tend to Acquire Full Capacity Quicker on Winter Days

You can view how crowded your bus is with the RFTA Bus Tracker capacity feature that shows if your bus is "not crowded", "somewhat crowded" or "crowded".

Please be patient and considerate of other passengers and bus drivers during crowded and challenging conditions.
